HOME

Simply put, we provide quick, personalized, confidential, and professional advice for any type of interpersonal relationship issue.

You email us your question, and we'll send you back quality advice, interpretation, and suggestions from a trained professional within 48 hrs or less.

So stop bugging your friends, and get some advice that is more objective, more honest, and more reliable.

Since we have all been there, we can sympathize with the stress and agony that comes from a troubling interpersonal problem. That's why we don't think you should have to wait to get some valuable guidance to help you through your issue and back to a more peaceful, fulfilling life.

LEGAL

By submitting a question, I agree that I am at least 18 years of age, have read and agree with this legal disclaimer, and agree that better-advice.com or its founder are not held in any way legally responsible for the outcome of any advice that I choose to act upon. The advice and interpretations of better-advice.com are only suggestions, and it is my choice whether or not to follow any suggested course of action. Furthermore, I am aware of and agree with the following:

This site provides advice for relationship issues, and is not intended for use regarding serious mental health issues. Any such questions should be directed toward a doctor or licensed practitioner.

If you feel in danger of physically harming yourself or someone else, please contact your local emergency or call 911 immediately.

If we receive an e-mail detailing an impending criminal act or injury to oneself, we reserve the right to contact the appropriate authorities.

This advice does not constitute legal advice and shall not be used as evidence in any legal proceedings.

Thank You!

COST

Like we said, when you've got a relationship dilemma, the last of your worries should have to be money. That is why we charge only $7.99 per response instead of the $25-$75 charged by other sites or the $100+ that you would spend for an in person session with a psychologist (where you would likely still not leave with any usable advice). Furthermore, if you get your better-advice and realize you still have that one, last, nagging follow-up question, you can write us back within 24 hours, and we'll put your mind at ease for only $4.99.

Now, just in case you are wondering why you have to pay at all for better-advice, let us kindly remind you that we are professionals, and just as you do your job every day, this is ours: to give you quick and helpful advice, not when we get around to it, but within 48 hours or less. This is not a hobby for us or a part-time thing; we are dedicated to being there when you need help!

ISSUES

We provide advice and guidance for any relationship dilemma or interpersonal issue including the following:

- Issues within a romantic relationship or marriage
- Dating dilemmas
- Dating/relationship issues specific to gay and lesbian couples
- Sexual issues of a non-medical nature
- Family conflicts
- Problems between parents and children or teenagers
- Issues between friends
- Problems with bosses or co-workers
- Self-esteem issues that may be impacting relationships

While we are here to provide you with help for interpersonal issues, if you have a more serious or life-threatening issue including, but not limited to, suicidal thoughts; physical or sexual abuse of a minor, elder, or dependent; or information regarding a violent crime, please do not contact better-advice.com, but rather call 911 or the proper authorities.

TESTIMONIALS

The people at better-advice.com really understand relationships. Their advice opened my eyes to the role I had been playing in the problems with my husband. Because of this site, I learned how to work on my own actions, and my marriage has never been better!

-Janine, 44

I was skeptical at first about getting advice from an online counselor, but believe me, their advice is worth every penny. I now consult better-advice.com whenever I have an issue with friends or co-workers.

-Mickahlia, 23

I had had an affair on my husband, and I felt like I couldn't go to my friends or family; I was scared they would judge me. I found better-advice.com and was able to be truthful and stay anonymous. The advice helped me tremendously! I got objective advice that wasn't biased toward either me or my husband.

-Lisa, 27

I just want to write you and tell you how thankful I am for your advice. It's been really hard for me being openly gay in the place where I live. I am grateful that you are out there because there are very few people I can trust when I have a problem.

-Lawrence, 19

I was embarrassed to talk to anyone about a sexual problem I was experiencing, so I thought I'd try the Internet. This site not only explained my symptoms to me, but it gave me techniques and strategies to use to overcome them.

-Jonathan, 29

Thank you better-advice.com; your advice was wonderful. As a widow dealing with the challenges of dating again after my 32-year-marriage, I had a great many questions. Thank you for your informational and compassionate responses.

-Evelyn, 57

I love this site! I use it all the time when I have a relationship question, and it's true, my friends are all grateful that I now have someone else to turn to instead of driving them all crazy.

-Leticia, 25

UNIQUE

The difference between us and other sites aimed at helping you with your interpersonal dilemmas is that we understand that every single situation is unique. In other words, the problem that you face today is not the same as the problem someone else was faced with yesterday. Whether between romantic partners, friends, family, or co-workers, each relationship has a different history, a different set of circumstances, and involves different personalities. That is why we answer every question individually rather than directing you to a storehouse of questions and answers to other people's problems.

In addition, we believe in providing you with the utmost degree of privacy. We send your advice to you, and only you, without posting it for the benefit or entertainment of others. Instead, we prefer to give you quick, confidential advice to resolve your relationship dilemmas and keep your relationships running smoothly in the future.

Finally, we don't believe that you should have to spend a bunch of money to get some good advice. You're already experiencing stress in a relationship; you shouldn't have to deal with financial stress as well.

WHY

You have a problem: We all have problems! And many of them center around our relationships with others--particularly the important people in our lives. We know how frustrating and draining it can be to continuously worry about a situation, over and over, seemingly finding no solution. Sadly, when we are faced with a troubling relationship issue, we are usually faced with only two options: either pay big money for weekly therapy sessions or rely on the counsel of your friends. The problem is that often we don't need or want months of deep analysis. We just need quick, professional advice to help us through a situation--right now.

Let's face it, our friends may mean well, but often their advice is not objective, honest, or reliable when we need real guidance and solutions.

Unfortunately, our friends have their own issues, opinions, and agendas that inherently prevent them from giving us unbiased advice. They also try to spare our feelings, often not telling us what we need to hear. Finally, they don't have the training and experience to be reliable because they haven't been educated in the interworkings of personal relationships. That is where we differ.

By using better-advice.com, your problem will be addressed by a professional advisor skilled and trained in counseling and providing reliable guidance.

We look forward to helping you resolve your dilemma and get back your peace of mind!
